Lebanon is hosting almost 1 million Syrian Refugees. Thousands of them fled Syria as early as in 2011, while majority reached Lebanon in 2013 and 2014. Since then, some 250,000 Syrian Refugees live in tented camps, set up in the mountains and coastal areas of Lebanon.

Related PCPM activities:

- Since 2018, PCPM has provided every camp in the cluster of 160 refugee camps in Aarsal with a comprehensive package of winterization assistance, in full coordination with UNHCR.
- The winterization assistance is based on tent-by-tent assessment, undertaken in July - August each year.
- The winterization assistance should be supplemented with provision of heating oil - either in-kind or through cash assistance.
- Largest program to prevent refugee camps' fires in Lebanon

Indicative budget for 160 refugee camps* (USD)

Shelter winterization kits for 6,300 families	$800,000
Distribution and operating costs	$200,000
TOTAL	$1,000,000
